message delivered - where you want, when you want.

Guerrilla Billboards can hit highly targeted demographics for you because our trucks are at your disposal: we can be in one location at rush hour, for example, and move to another area for the lunchtime crowd. This brings your clients maximum exposure for their dollar, providing a CPM difficult to achieve using other methods of outdoor advertising.

accessibility - any time, anywhere.

Some locations don't have traditional outdoor media available. If there are billboards around, the space may not be available when you need it, or the cost may be prohibitive, particularly in high traffic areas. In these types of situations our guerrilla trucks can be just the ticket: flexible, free-moving, and eye-catching.

your voice comes through, loud and clear.

The banners on our guerrilla trucks are huge - over 10 x 22 feet, ensuring maximum impact for your message. To complement this message, we keep our trucks clean and well maintained, ensuring positive brand associations among consumers. For you, we provide detailed logs and a stack of photos to document the success of your campaign.
